

Apprenticeships and Training Schemes

Previous apprenticeships and training schemes at The Black-E have not (with one exception) provided participants completing the schemes with formal qualifications. They have however provided such participants with the experience and skills for employment, and for acceptance on schemes and courses provided by other institutions and organisations and leading to formal qualifications.

We are currently exploring and consulting on the future provision at The Black-E of accredited courses leading to formal qualifications, particularly for young people with an interest in the contemporary arts. The results of this exploration - together with details of accredited courses which may become available to young people - will be announced in 2009.
